The D.L.E Story

Dynamic Liquid Explosion

The D.L.E Story, by Bernard Rangel, is an oil-canvas collective curated at the club/restaurant venue, The Rhythm Factory in Whitechapel.

The D.L.E Story begins with a painting titled 'The Egg Seed'. In its true embryonic form, symbolic of new beginnings, Bernard witnessed a quantum leap in the energy of his work, from static to dynamic. The D.L.E story continues with a collective at its hallucinogenic best with rhythmic colours, meteoric forms and an explosive presence.

Born in Yemen of Indian parents, educated in Ireland, 24 yrs in Brazil, and painting for 35 years, Bernard Rangel is as eclectic as his paintings, which he earnestly describes as 'Contemporary Tribal Surrealism'. Currently residing in London, Bernard is meticulously plotting a visual explosion in East London. From Spitalfields to Whitechapel and soon in Brick Lane.

The paintings are at The Rhythm Factory to create space like the celestial. Born to go far and wide in the space of time. The D.L.E Story ends with the vibrations of new beginnings.
In Hope.
